By Mike Connolly

Dear Mr. Connolly: I wish you would stir up the networks to throw "Peyton Place" and other filthy shows off TV. All that open talk about sex is NOT good for beaming into my home and the homes of my neighbors, and I don't care what argument anyone gives me that it is. This also for that soap commercial on Danny Thomas' show: do they have to show a half-nude woman in a bathtub just to sell us a cake of soap? Now really! If you like that sort of thing, just throw this note away—but, believe me, many parents will praise you if you help get this smut off TV.—Hester Mesur, Tampa, Fla.

Dear Hester: I don't have room to run your entire letter, just enough to give other viewers who feel the same way you do an idea of the kind of letters you should write to the network bosses. That's, of course, if you're really sincere. But if you ARE sincere, you'd better give it more than lip service—because the ratings show that you're ALL watching "Peyton Place" and the other shows you condemn for being "too sexy".

Dear Mike: I see where T. C. Jones is joining Dana Wynter in a segment of "Hitchcock Presents." What's a female impersonator doing in such a serious show, and opposite such a fine and dignified actress as Miss Wynter? — Louise Woodman, Scottsdale, Ariz.

Dear Louise: It's an important part of the plot. Dana plays a patient tended by a murderous female nurse—until the typically Hitchcockian finale, when it's revealed that the felonious female is really a male.

Dear Mike: I just read a columnist who said she kept the news about an actor's ailment out of the paper because "everybody loves him." What about her duty to us, the readers? — Sue Bohlin, Chicago.

Dear Sue: Why ask me? Ask her. Maybe it was a slip of the typewriter.

Mike: I hate you and so will all of us unless you write something nice about the Beatles.—A.B.F., Peoria, Ill.

Dear A.: Come out from behind those initials (I know they mean "A Beetle Fan," at you big-eyed Beetlebuff you!) and tell me something nice to write about them.

Dear Mike, you mixed-up kid, you: You insist Louise Dresser is NOT the sister of Paul Dresser or Theodore Dreiser, yet you say Louise is promoting the career of her grand-niece, real name Theodora Dreiser. Looks from here like Louise is his sister, after all, wot?—Bill Reeves, Pasadena.

Dear Bill: Did I say that? I meant to say Louise refers to Theodora as her grand-niece.

Dear Sir: To settle a dispute, please tell us the ages of Jackie Cooper and Jackie Coogan. — V.H.H., Coalinga, Calif.

Dear V.: Cooper was born in 1922, Coogan in 1914.

Dear Mike: Please settle an argument for the ladies who follow the exercise programs on TV. Did Jack Lanne pass away a year ago, as rumored, or are his shows that are now beaming re-runs? — A "Tops" Member, Cazenovia, N. Y.

Dear Tops: Jack is very alive and swingin' those dumbbells—and the shows are re-runs.

Dear Mike: I had the most horrible sensation of my life recently. I watched the Beatles for one hour on TV. I can't understand how a network could waste an audience's time like that—the only thing that made sense was the commercial for an insect spray! . . . Etc., etc. . . . Tell the kids of America to wake up and at least be honest with themselves. As for you, I dare you to print this.—A Square, Erie, Pa.

Dear Square: As for you, it's you and your kind who get me into trouble with A. B.F. and her kind. They think I'm saying all those nasty things about the Beatles, when all I'm doing is reporting the opposition's opinion of the Liverpool Larks!

Mike Connolly will try to answer your questions in his column. He gives no personal replies by mail.
